Submission: Hello, Please no housing on there at all. It was always meant to be a green zone, with recreation facilities. The ADI site was decimated for housing, and Penrith has more than enough housing at the moment, with all the high rise apartments. Leave us this land for recreational use. People before developers and money. I have been living away from Penrith for the last 18 months, I still own a house there. When we return to Australia next year I doubt it will be to Penrith, due to the high rises, traffic and lack of green space and outdoor recreation. People are being driven away, the council and government are putting profit ahead of a nice lifestyle. Stop it. Cheryl Rutherford
