Pyrmont is a residential area with a lot of properties built without proper sound proofing, allowing a 24 hour entertainment venue to operate there is detrimental to residents sleeping health. Night time visitors are often rowdy and venture into near by areas to park to take advantage of after hours free parking. Right now there are often casino and pub goers wandered into nearby residential streets either to collect their parked there or just hang around in their "after party". They are loud and unpredictable. Residents are scared of confronting them and can only wait for them to leave we don't want to bother the police all the time.

I agree to the above statement
