I dont agree with the proposed amount of new housing for the following reasons:

1. Without frequent trains leaving every 2 minutes from glenfield to the city via the airport line during peak hour there will not be enough capacity to use the train network.
2. Public transport around glenfield is poor and will not accommodate the new residents.
3. Parking will be a major issue. The proposal doesn't account for the amount of cars that will be around.
4. The new units will flood the market causing property prices to fall in the area.
5. If green space and making Glenfield a liveable suburb was a concern for the government then it would of had plans to do that instead of the proposed plan to shove more people into a suburb not suitable for expansion.
6. The agricultural school adds more value to the community than housing.
7. The suburb will become overdeveloped and left with nothing of value in return.
