The concept of the Aerotropolis as proposed in the documentation seems devoid of any purpose or justification.

What sort of people would wish to live or work next to a 24x7 airport? This could only be a future ghetto.

What happens if people living or working in the Aerotropolis complain about the noise or the fumes or the heat or the traffic generated by the airport.

Wouldn't it make more sense to locate this development somewhere, anywhere else rather than next door to a 24x7 airport.

There would be far more merit/justification to locate it near to Penrith CBD or Liverpool CBD or Blacktown CBD.

Have alternative locations been considered?
