I agree with Penrith Council's draft plan to put a train station and develop Orchard Hills as residential housing.

A huge issue in the Penrith area is housing affordability. There is currently an over supply of units however an under supply of affordable housing. There needs to be a substantial increase in residential land development to cater for the growing population.

I have [REDACTED] and am keen for the job opportunities that will result from the airport, I am concerned about house prices being driven up by a lack of supply.
