To whom it may concern,

We have lived in Bringelly [REDACTED] We originally chose this area to live in as we desired to live in a rural suburb with space [REDACTED] to run around and enjoy the serenity and fresh air whilst not being too far away from schools/shops etc.

Although we initially were keen to remain here for a long time, if not enjoy our future retirement here, this is no longer the plan with the upcoming airport. We do not wish to remain in a suburb that will be populated, have a major city and no longer be the rural community that we currently love and enjoy. We have accepted the fact that the birth of the airport means the end of our time living here in this community.

In regards to the latest proposed zoning, we find it confusing and unsettling that we have been marked as 'Agribusiness' land. We have been unable to get clear answers as to how this will effect our land value for the future resale of our property and this has now become our primary concern.

[REDACTED] We have had to work very hard to have what we now have and we are very concerned that after all that we have worked so hard to achieve for both our and our children's futures, we have in fact done us all a disservice by buying in an area that (unfortunately for us) is now gaining an airport.

We feel that the land we are residing on would be better suited to be some sort of 'mixed business' zoning in the form of a 'Southern Gateway' to the airport especially as we are surrounded closely by proposed major roads, the Aerotropolis precinct and a proposed World Trade Centre. We feel that agricultural businesses would not only look out of place in such an area but we also feel that allowing zoning of 'mixed businesses' would be of benefit to ourselves by allowing our land to be bought for wider purposes then the limitations that are currently placed on it. We also feel that this is of benefit to the future community of Bringelly also by allowing our area to be developed in a way that could best serve the community and best utilise the resources that surround [REDACTED].

We thank you for taking the time to read our submission and taking our perspectives into consideration.

Kind Regards,
