Dear Planning Minister and Planning Team

The day I found out about the recent classification of "Non Urban" status of my property, I felt my heart broke. I am currently experiencing sleepless nights and have borderline depressive symptoms.

The many years I've lived in the property hoping that some day, one day, it will provide me with a pension and I could provide a better future for my kids. Those years of dreaming and sacrificing an urban livelihood seem to be wasted with one decision.

I have been living [REDACTED]. Not once have I seen flooding on my property or on the roads around the area. I don't understand how an announcement like this could be made so sudden and affect so many lives in a negative way. Property prices have been devalued. People's mental health are suffering.

I hope you will do the right thing and change the "non urban" status to the high probability flood lines to those affected in 1 in 100 years and not anything more.

Kind Regards
Manh Hue Quach
