I am an extremely concerned resident who has recently learnt that the proposed zoning in our street has changed from Urban-Employment to Non-Urban. This information filtered through to us in a very unfair manner.... no consultation in relation to our area. We thought our land would not be acquired for the Aerotropolis project.

I have lived in [REDACTED] for the past 50 years together with my wife who has resided here for [REDACTED] years. The thought of having to move has caused enormous angst not only for us but our daughter, son in law and grandchildren. The thought hammering through our heads "where to from here".

As my wife and I both suffer with chronic illnesses, our daughter decided to stay on the property and look after us when the time arises. In turn we help by looking after our grandchildren by taking them to school and daycare, and look after them until their parents come home. What do we do now EVICT them. They missed out on cheaper housing to stay with us and with having to move away won't be able to afford the high mortgage repayments of today leaving them no option but to move into the country area or interstate. Both have permanent positions which they will definitely lose. Substantive positions are hard to come by, another worry to face. My grandchildren cry they don't want to leave their school or friends. Sad that little ones are also subjected to anxiety attacks at an early age.

I can only hope that the governing bodies will act with some compassion and compensate the landowners with equitable compensation so we can move together, as one family and not be divided.

Looking forward to a favourable reply.
