Submission: I don't believe that this plan is in the best interest of the people of Western Sydney. You say that you are planning to develop all the remaining areas across the western city and also conserve the local vegetation at the same time. You cannot do both of these and retain the remainder or increase the presence of the heavily impacted Cumberland Plain Woodland. Your draft does not specifically say what exactly you are conserving. Inappropriate title. It appears instead to be concentrated on the development of every square inch of what is left in the Sydney Basin. People will suffer from this type of plan, let alone the animals and plants of western Sydney. Plans that are driven by profit usually fail the average person who has no say in the process when Strategic plans and minimal assessments inform the decisions made. I do not agree with this draft plan. Do not use it.
