Submission

This submission is by way of a supplement to my submission of 8 December. When I made my first submission I was under the impression that the deadline was 16 December 2020, which was what had been originally advertised. I now understand that the deadline is 29 January 2021, a change with potentially important consequences.

I was concerned that the original deadline was very tight and that this might discourage people from making submissions. I am now concerned that the new deadline is fully six weeks away. This potentially may allow for plans to be set in train with the prospect of many more buildings not in keeping with the character of the Rosebery Estate.

I strongly urge that the savings and transitional period should extend only to 16 December, and that new proposals not be initiated in the period 16 December – 29 January.

I reiterate my strong support for the moratorium on new proposals and the review of the existing covenant .
