Hi there, I am the owner of 386 Gardeners Rd Rosebery. Thank you for providing me this opportunity to speak out for our neighbour and future. I strongly agree that we will must have the double storey building code. From the point I moved to rosebery, this place is under valued and not developing at all. Houses are much older than other suburbs. family and populations update slow. however all the suburbs around us have at least double storey building code and most of them with high density like apartment, shopping centres, This is unfair that for some people they are elderly people lived here for decades however they have wrong opinion just stay like 100 years ago. people will need to update, develop and require revolution.

increase the building code for a general planning is necessary and natural. we can't be living in a original world and being selfish. we need improvement and development to fit into this beautiful city.

thank you for considering my point and wish we could get a good result for our suburb soon.
