How would you feel if tomorrow the government and/or the Dept of Planning or council etc. re-zoned YOUR property to a zoning such as environmental or green space, causing the value to reduce dramatically and no one wanting to obviously purchase it at the current market price, you can't do anything on your land as the zoning does not permit this, you are in your elderly years and relying on the sale of your property, which you have worked all your life for as your nest egg to retire comfortably??? And you can't get any information or, responses or answers from these departments no matter how you much try... I would really love to hear from you how would you feel if you were suddenly in this position, PLEASE send me an email with your reply. I can tell you how my elderly parents feel. They feel very sad, deflated, confused, trapped, angry, anxious, depressed and they feel deceived by this current Liberal government. We have a glimmer of hope and lucky to have decent people such as Greg Warren and Anne Stanley who have unlike this current government given up their time to listen and represent the unfortunate, mostly elderly landowners trapped in this awful environmental zoning. We hope the current government does the right thing and as a matter of urgency purchases or acquires the land they have allocated in the environmental zone and allow these suffering elderly people to get on with what is left of their lives. Thank you
