Submission: Hi, We are trying to make contact but can't find any other way to do it except this online submission as I can't find a general email address. We are landowners in Brucedale and been told by a neighbour that there is a meeting tonight that he got a letter about but we know nothing about. Is that true? Also we have just registered for the other meetings listed - for both Brucedale and also the rural activity zone as we believe our land falls in that zone. We will most likely not be able to make the one about the rural activity zone as we are contractors at the wagga saleyards so with the sheep and lamb market on a thursday the time of the meeting is not going to be suitable for us to attend. What do you suggest we do about these meetings and the meeting tonight to ensure that we get information as we haven't received anything at all but lots of our neighbours seem to be getting information. Thanks, Brendon and Abbey Webb
